PRONOUNCIATION GUIDE

The wolof pronunciation system is relatively simple. Every symbol stands for only one sound, that is every symbol is pronounced the same way in every word.

The distinction between short and long vowels is very important, because it is sometimes the only way to distinguish pairs of words which have different meanings. Long vowels are always doubled, while short vowels are not.

There is a lot of prenalization in wolof. There usually occur with nasals such as m, n, etc...

V O W E L S

As indicated, wolof vowels are either long or short. A long vowel is indicated a doubling of the symbol, and it must be pronounced a little longer than a short vowel (which is not doubled).

Long and short vowels can occur anywhere in the word.

CULTURAL NOTES

Nanga def ? - Maangi fi rek.

This form of greeting is used for one's peers or juniors. It is not considered respectful to use this type of greeting with elder people. Greetings usually go together with handshake, some men do not shakehands with woman because of religions reasons. Therefore, women should wait for men to make the move especially in an unfamiliar milien. Greetings are very important in Gambian society and must be used to open conversation, business, transactions, etc.

RESPONSE

The usual way to respond to calls is "NAAM". This is an Arabic word meaning "yes, here, present, etc". In typical wolof settings men respond to their professors last names like "Mbake" or their own last names like Balde etc. Woman can either use their husband's last name or their own last name. This way of answering to a call is very common in the wolof society.

CULTURAL NOTES

1 PRIVACY AND BEING SICK

People express their sympathy to sick people by visiting them.

The patient feels very grateful if some time is spent with him/her at least for one hour or more. The sick person is not always left alone to sleep or rest for a whole day there will be people coming in and out until night falls so you would find out that the notion of privacy as known in the states does not exist here.

When visiting a sick person in the urban area, you are expected to take along fruits, money or food.

In The Gambia, people are only admitted at big hospital, and Basse hospital and Mansakonko hospital and Farafeni hospital for all other illnesses.

There are several health centres and clinics around the urban rural areas for treating minor illnesses and deliveries. Presently the medical and Health Departments has released a law that patients should be given time to rest and be alone for a while, so a result of that visiting hours in big hospitals is 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. every day except Sunday which is 2 p.m. to 6 p.m. People don't visit sick people at night.

The Compliment And Object Redicator

The words laa, nga, la etc, are Compliments and Object Predicators. They predicate the noun, pronouns or question words the compliments of their subject. This predication function corresponds to the English verb "to be" but it has many more functions and is not always used in the same order as in English.

In this lesson we will look at it in its function as a compliment.

- raxasukaay	- a washer

The Independent Subject Pronouns

The Independent Subject Pronouns are grammatically independent of nouns and verbs. Since it is not necessary for Independent Subject. Pronouns to be tied to a verb or noun, they are the ones which are used to form one word construction (usually questions or answers to questions) in which the pronouns stands alone. It should be noted that the Independent subject pronouns can be used in this way regardless of whether the context implies a subject or object grammatical functions. For instance, kan la? (who is it) Man(I) They are also used with prepositions like ag(and) ci(in/at etc..), be (to, up to, until), ngir (because of) and pur (for). Finally, the Independent Subject Pronouns are used for emphasis or to clarify the person reference of certain pronouns.

	Singular	Plural
1st Person	Man	Ñun
2nd Person	Yow	yéen
3rd Person	Moom	Ñoom

The 3rd person singular (moom) represent him/her/it.

Examples

Ñun, Jangalekat leñu - We are teachers

Ñoom, Jangalekat leñu - They are teachers

(In the above examples you will note that the function of the Independent Subject Pronouns is to help clarify person of reference in what could have been ambiguous statements).

Below are some negated examples:

Examples

Man, duma feccakat	- I am not a dancer
Moom, du balekat	- She is not a cleaner (sweeper)
Ñun duñu bindakat	- We are not writers
Yow doo woykat	- You are not a singer
Ñoom duñu xarit	- They are not friends
Yeén dungeen beykat	- You(pl) are not farmers.

Vocabulary

Feccakat - dancer	Balekat - cleaner (sweeper)
Bindakat - writer	Woykat - singer
Xarit - friend	Beykat - farmers

The Presentative - angi

The basic function of - angi and its variants is to present or call attention to something or someone existing or doing something at the time of speaking. The final vowel i in angi indicate what is referred to is close at hand. If the person or thing referred to is not close at, the final vowel used is a and the form of the presentative is anga instead. -angi has the English meaning of here is and anga there is.

The presentative - angi can be attached directly to the noun or the definite article and also to the Independent pronoun.

Examples

1 taabulangi - here is table	2 tabulbangi - here is the table
3 siisanga - there is chair	4 siis banga - there is the chair

Indefinite Articles

In the singular there are no indefinite articles like a or an in wolof as there are in English, wolof uses the numerical benna (one) or ab. (Benna or) ab is placed before the noun. In the plural forms ay is placed before the noun.

Examples

- ab taabul la - It is a table
- ab jangalekat nga - You are a teacher

Relative Pronouns

An article of a person, place or thing is usually expressed by modifying a noun with an objective (stative verbs). A relative pronoun is the "linker" in such adjectival constructions. Relative pronouns are formed from the consonant appropriate to the noun class of modified noun plus the vowel u. Thus the relative pronouns for the following will be:

Noun	Definite Article	Relative Pronoun Sing.	Relative pronoun Plural
Toogu	bi	bu	yu
Soxna	si	su	yu
jigeen	ji	ju	yu/ñu
Muus	mi	mu	yu
ndekki	li	lu	yu
Garab	gi	gu	yu
Waañ	wi	wu	yu
Nit	ki	ku	ñu

Examples

- Toogu bu degër - Chair which is strong (strong chair)
- Jiggeen ju baax - Woman who is good (good woman)
- Muus mu weex - Cat which is white (white cat)

When the noun modified by a relative pronoun is determined, the definite article comes after the phrase rather than directly after the noun.

Examples

Noun	Relative Pronoun	Stative Verb	Article
Ndekki Lu Breakfast	Neex Which	Li Nice	The
Garab Tree	Gu Which	Gaata Short	Gi The
Nit Person	Ku Who	Baax Good	Ki The

Possessives

The Wolof possessive pronouns function fairly similarly to their English equivalents. Just as English uses the same form "your" for both singular and plural second person categories. Also as with other Wolof pronouns, one form is used for the third person singular with no distinction of gender.

	Singular	Plural
1st Person	suma/sama	suñu/suñ
2nd Person	sa	seen
3rd Person	-am	seen

Nouns
Xarit	- friend	Tubey	- Trousers
Kër	- Compound	Neeg	- Mouse
Taabul	- Table	Teere	- Book
Dóom	- Child	Xaj	- Dog
Dékandoo	- Neighbour	Wonak	- Bathroom
Kama	- Toilet	Tawel/sarbet	- Towel
Meyekat	- Giver, fun cracker

Examples

- Kii sa xarit la - This (person) is your friend
- Kii suñu xarit la - This (person) is our friend
- Fii neegam la - Here is his/her house
- Moodu sama xarit la - Moodu is my friend
- Lii seen téere la - This is your/their book
- Kale dóomam la - That person is a her/his/its child.

Note

The Independent Subject Pronoun will help to clarify what could have been an ambiguous statement.

Example

- Yeen, lii seen teere la - Your(all) this is your book
- Ñoom, lii seen teere la - They, this is their book.

Relationship Marker

The Particle "u" and "i"

A possessive relationship between one noun and another is indicated in Wolof by placing the noun referring to the thing possessed (the modified noun) before that referring to the possessor (the noun modified). In addition the first or possessed noun is usually followed by a special grammatical marker which marks the relationship between the two nouns. This relationship marker has two forms:- u and i. These are used indiscriminately depending on where you are located.

Examples

- | | |
|-------------------|-----------------------------------|
| 1 Taabul - i Omar | - Table of Omar (Omar's table) |
| 2 Tubey - i John | - Trousers of John (John's pants) |

This relationship marker also exist in constructions with a possessive adjective. Its existence does not interfere with grammatical structures. Yet still the possessive adjectives precedes the noun it modifies.

Examples

- | | |
|---------------------------------|---|
| Suma xarit - i xarit | - My friend's friend |
| Sa simis - i doom | - Your child's shirt |
| Kii rak - i xaritam la | - This person is her friend's younger sibling |
| Man, jabar - i Alikali bi laa | - I am the Alkalo's wife |
| Moom, Suma reen - i xoli mag la | - She is my older sibling's sweet heart |
| Lale alel - i John la | - That is John's property/belonging |

| Juróom | - Five | Juróom Benna | - Six |

Peace Corps The Gambia

Juróom Ñaar - Seven	Juróom Ñetta - Eight
Juroóm Ñenent - Nine	Raka - Younger Sibling
Mag - Elder Sibling	Ñaw - To Sew
Tamaate - Tomato	Reeni xol - Heart's root (sweet heart)
Alel - Belongings/riches

Note

The 3rd person possessive adjective should always follow the noun it modifies even in constructions with the relationship marker.

Examples

Siis - i Doomam	- His/her child's Chair
Jangalekat - i Xaritam	- His/her friend's teacher

The relationship marker is used to indicate the kinds of relationship shown in the following phrases:-

Jaaykat - i jën	- Seller of fish (fish-Seller)
Neeg - i Ñax	- House of grass (Grass House)
Defarkat - i Montar	- Maker of watch (watch Maker)

The relationship marker is also used to express the amount or number of some measurable or countable substance. The phrases below are made with a quantity or container noun.

Paket - i Sigaret	- Packet of cigarette
Ñett - i Néeg	- Three Houses
Fukk - i Xaj	- Ten Dogs
Buteel - i Ndox	- Bottle of water

There is one noun in Wolof which when modified by another noun never has a relationship marker used with it.

Waa	- People of, Inhabitants. Residents
Waa Gambia	- People of Gambia (Gambians)
Suma waa ker	- People of my home (my Family)

Note

Words ending with vowels e, i, o, and u retain vowel ending. You will notice that in the functional Wolof the relationship marker with such words is not used.

Examples

Degé Sirra	- Sira's peanut butter
Téere Peace Corps	- Peace Corps's book
Moto suma yaay	- My mother's car
Toogu xale bi	- The child's seat
Caabi neegam bi	- His house's key

Possessive Pronouns

When for one reason or another, the specific noun referring to the thing possessed is omitted, its place can be taken by the noun substituting bos for the singular, and yos modified by a possessive adjective are generally equivalent to the English possessive pronouns "mine", "yours" etc...

	Singular	Plural	Singular	Plural
1st Person	suma bos	suma yos	suñu bos	suñu yos
2nd Person	sa bos	sa yos	seen bos	seen yos
3rd Person	bosam	yos am seen bos		seen yos

Present Continous (Progressive Tense)

The word di sometimes da (or its variants -a and -y) has no real meaning of its own in Wolof. The particle di is place before a verb and its functions is to indicate that the action referred to by the verb is incomplete

The following examples will deal with the present continous tense in situations when a noun or pronoun is modified by the presentative - angi.

Mangi di lekka	- (here) I am eating
Mungi di tooga	- (here) She is cooking
Muusangi di tob	- (here) Is a cat jumping
Nitangi di dox	- (here) is a person walking

The particle di is fused with the subject pronouns and the presentative to give the following forms:

	Singular	Plural
1st Person	Maangee	Ñungee
2nd Person	Yaangee	Yeenangee
3rd Person	Mungee	Ñungee

Examples

Maangi di lekka/Mangee lekka	- I am eating
Mungi di tooga/Mungee tooga	- She is cooking

Note

- 1 The -ee ending is also used when a noun, the presentative and the particle di are fused.
- 2 The -ee ending is also used when the presentative, the definite article and the particle di are fused.

Muusangi di tob/Muusangee tob - Cat is jumping

Nitangi di dox/Nitangee dox - Person is walking

Muus mi - angi di tob)

Muus mangi di tob) - Muus mangee tob - The cat is jumping Nit ki angi di dox)

Nit kangi di dox) - Nit kangee dox - The person is walking

Woxtu wi angi di jot - Woxtu wangee lot - The time is approaching (It's almost time)

The Complement and Object Predicator with the Particle Di

In Wolof the object of a verb is emphasized by predicating it by means of laa, nga, la etc.. not by giving it special stress as in English. This lesson will show how laa, nga and la are treated as Object Predicators.

Examples		Direct Translation
Banjul laa di dem	- Banjul I (am) going	- I am going (to) Banjul
Mbuuru nga di lekka	- Bread you (are) eating	- You are eating bread
Xalel la di door	- Child he/she (is) beating	- He/She is beating a child

In functional Wolof the Object Predicators usually go with variant - y or - a

	Singular	Plural
1st Person	laay	lanuy (lanu-a) lañoo
2nd Person	ngay/ngaa	ngeena/ngeenay
3rd Person	lay/laa	lañuy (lañus) lañoo

Note

The 1st person singular takes only the -y variant

- because of the vowels u and a coming together lañoo is used in functional Wolof
- the 2nd person plural takes the variant -a and also both -a and -y

In functional Wolof the above examples will be thus:

Banjul laay dem	- I am going to Banjul
Mbuuru ngay lekka	- You are eating bread

Vocabulary

Fompa	- To wipe/to dust
Fóot	- To wash clothes
Indi	- To bring
Jel	- To take (from)/to collect (from)
Lem	- To fold
Paase	- To iron
Raxas	- To wash
Yoobu	- To take (to)/to carry

Exercise 1

taayi	to be tired
yadaak	to be dull
dof	to be stupid
nooy	to be soft
deger	to be hard
wow	to be dry
feeber	to be sick/ill
xiif	to be hungry
tilim	to be dirty
tooy	to be wet
taapet	to be timid

The following verbs fall under both categories. They are considered as active verbs when one is in the process of performing the prescribed action. The continuous tense marker must be used to indicate action. In the absence of the continuous tense marker they are considered stative verbs. They are stative because one is in the described condition.

toog	- to sit	sukka	- to kneel
maata	- to bite	taxaw	- to stand
segga	- to bow/bend from the waist	tedda	- to lie down
taanu	- to lie on one's back	kanju	- to lie on one's side

In the following examples, the condition of the person of reference is described. (see the lesson on completion markers).

taxaw naa	- I am standing toog nga	- You are sitting

sukka na	- He is kneeling maata neñu	- We are biting

Completion Markers

When used with stative verbs it indicates that the condition or state of mind is completed, therefore, one be considered as a present tense marker for stative verbs when used with active verbs the completion marker completes the action of the verbs and therefore, can be considered as a simple past tense marker for active verbs.

	Singular	Plural
1st Person	naa	nañu neñ
2nd Person	nga	ngeen
3rd Person	na	neñu neñ

Note

The person of reference is indicated by using the appropriate completion marker. The 3rd person singular stands for he/she/it.

Examples

Active verbs

lekka naa mbuuru	- I ate bread
Dem ngeen	- You (plural) went

Stative verbs

xiif nga	- You are hungry
am naa simis	- I have a shirt

Vocabulary

Object Predicator as Completion Markers

When the object predicator is used with Active verbs without the continuous tense particle the sentence can be regarded as being in the simple past. When used with stative verbs it is in the simple present. The object predicators will appear in the following forms:

	Singular	Plural
1st person	laa	leñu/lañu/leñ
2nd person	nga	ngeen
3rd person	la	leñu/lañu/leñ

Examples

xaalis laa am (It is) money I have xaalis laa gis (It is) money I saw

Note

The emphasis is on the object.

Exercise 10 Translate to Wolof

These sentences are written as they would be said in Wolof

- | | |
|----------------------|---------------------------|
| 1 The child I saw | 2 Bread I ate |
| 3 Stones they bought | 4 Bed you (singular) have | | 5 House you bought | 6 Rice we cooked |

Verbal Negative

Wolof verbs are usually negated by means of special suffix which is added directly to the verb itself. The subject pronoun used in a negative verbal construction always immediately follow the negative suffix (the negative particle and pronoun are sort of fused together). See the paradigm below.

	Singular	Plural
1st Person	- uma	- unu
2nd Person	- uloo	- uleen
3rd Person	- ut /- ul	- unu

The 3rd person singular is used indiscriminately. In a verbal negative construction, the difference between stative and active verbs remain the same. Verbs ending in a loose the a in the connection.

Examples

- | | |
|----------------------------------|--------------------------|
| 1 seeti naa Omar | - Seetina Omar |
| 2 binda na leetar bi | - binduma leetar bi |
| 3 dem naa maarse | - demuma maarse |
| 4 fóot nga mbubba mi | - fóotuloo mbubba mi |
| 5 Lekka neñu mango (mango) | - lekkuñu mango |
| 6 passe ngeen malaan me (malaan) | - paasew uleen malaan mi |
| 7 raxas na bool bi | - raxasut bool bi |
| 8 lem nga xaftaan bi | - lemuloo xaftaan bi |
| 9 naan neñu ndox mi | - naanuñu ndox mi |
| 10 gis ngeen seen xarit yi | - gisuleen seen xarit yi |

Object Predictors And Verbal Negative Phrases

When an object is emphasised in a sentence by mean of an object predicator the 3rd person singular is attached to the verb to negate it.

Exercise 1a

|--------------------|----------------------------------|
| Daala leñu solut | - Shoes we do not wear |
| Ndekki ngeen defut | - Breakfast you(pl) did not do |
| Minti la moccut | - Candy he did not munch | | Piis laa amut | - Fabric I do not have |
| Sa xarit la gisut | - Your friend he/she did not see |

Exercise 1b These to Wolof

These sentences are written as they would be said in Wolof.

- | | |
|-------------------------------|--------------------------------------|
| 1 My friend I did not greet | 2 Banjul you did not go |
| 3 A table he does not have | 4 A bed he did not buy |
| 5 Shoes we did not want | 6 Breakfast you (plural) did not eat |
| 7 Studing wolof I do not like | 8 Strolling you did not do |
| 9 Work she did not go | 10 Bread I did not buy |

Expressing "Not Yet"

The additions of the suffix - agul to a verb indicates that the action of the verb referred to has not yet taken place at the time of speaking. The suffix with the appropriate pronoun is used to indicate person of reference.

	Singular	Plural
1st Person	-aguma	-aguñu
2nd Person	-aguloo	-aguleen
3rd Person	-agul	-aguñu

Examples

- | | |
|-------------------------|---------------------------------------|
| Feccaguma cëggin | - I did not yet dance the dog style |
| Dóoragul ligeeyam | - He did not yet start his job |
| Woxtaan aguleen ak ñoom | - You (pl) did not yet chat with them |

Subject Emphasis

When there is a need to emphasize or draw attention to the subject of a verbal construction, the following pronouns are used.

	Singular	Plural
1st Person	maa	ñoo
2nd Person	yaa	yeena
3rd Person	moo	ñoo

When used with stative verbs the simple present is indicated and with active verbs the simple past is indicated.

Examples

- | | |
|------------------|--|
| maa am dala | - I have shoe(s)/(I'm the one who has shoes) |
| maa lekka mbuuru | - I ate bread (I'm the one who ate bread) |

When an action is incomplete, the marker di- is used and is usually realized as -Y

	Singular	Plural
1st Person	maay	ñooy
2nd Person	yaay	yeenay
3rd Person	mooy	ñooy

Examples

Maay dem Banjul	- I am going to Banjul
Yaay binda leetar	- You are writing a letter
Mooy wox ci telephone bi	- She is (the one) talking on the phone
Sierra, mooy tooga reer	- She is cooking the dinner
John, yaay joxee lampa yi	- John is giving out the lamps

Imperatives (positive)

In Wolof the imperative form of the verb refers to the second person. This is formed by attaching the imperative marker to the verb. The singular imperative marker to the verb. The singular imperative marker is - al and plural - leen.

Example

ñow	- to come	toog	- to sit taxaw	- to stand	nibi	- ti go home
yengal	- to stir, more, shake

Singular

ñowal	- come toogal	- sit
taxawal	- stand
ñibil	- go home
yengalal	- shake, stir

Plural

ñowleen toogleen taxawleen ñibileen yëngalleen

Note

Unlike the use of different plural imperative as a sign of politeness the difference in Wolof strictly relates to number.

Verbs ending in vowels take - l for the singular but take leen in the plural

Vocabulary

Léegi	- now	ëlek	- tomorrow
-------	-------	------	------------

Peace Corps The Gambia

In Wolof, also, special forms exist for pronouns used as objects, of which two forms are identical with each other.

	Singular	Plural
1st Person	ma - me	ñu - us
2nd Person	la - you	leen - you
3rd Person	ko - him/her/it	leen - you

Imperative with object pronouns

When an object pronoun is used with the imperative form there is a difference depending on whether the singular or the plural is used. The singular -al is dropped but the plural -leen is kept.

Please explain the use of LA and when and how to use LA.

Examples

gis ma ëllek	- See me tomorrow
gisleen ma ëllek	- (You all) see me tomorrow
jox ko xalis bi	- Give him the money
joxleen ko xalis bi	- (You all) give him the money
lekka ko leegi	- Eat it now
lekkaleen ko leegi	- (You all) eat it now

3 Ask for it	4 Show us the table
5 Load them	6 Ask them the shirt
7 Make it	8 You (plural) drink it
9 Cook it now	10 Reduce them

Another function of the imperative is to indicate a relation of benefaction between the subject of the verb and some third party(ies). This function can be seen in the following sentences:

Examples

- yobbul ko téere bi	- take the book for him
- indil ma butéel bi	- bring the bottle for me

Exercise 1b Translate to Wolof

1 Write the letter for us	2 Cook the rice for them
3 You(plural) bring the water for us	4 Teach me Wolof
5 Take the table for him	6 Increase the water for us
7 Load the shoes for them	8 Make the bed for him
9 Sweep the house for us	10 Bring the bottle for them

Object Pronouns with Completion Markers

When used with completion markers the object pronoun should always follow the completion marker. See the following examples:

- gis naa ko	- I saw it
- lekka neñu ko	- We ate it
- indil nga ñu téere bi	- You bought the book for us
- raxasal na la taabul bi	- He washed the table for you

Subject Independent Pronoun With Prepositional Phases

The Subject in Independent Pronoun with the presentative -angi are often used with prepositional phrases. They are used as location determinants.

	Singular	Plural
1st Person	maangi	ñungi
2nd Person	yaangi	yeenangi
3rd person	mungi	ñungi

When asking about locations the question word Ana (where) is often used.

Examples

Ana téere bi? Mungi ci/si biir néeg bi Where is the book? It is inside the house

Ana paaka bi? Mungi ci/si kow taabul bi Where is the knife? It is on the table

Ana xale bi? Mungi ci ron garab gi ci ganaaw-i neeg bi Where is the child? He is under the tree behind the house

The verb NEKKA (to be/to be located) has many uses in Wolof, but most of all, the verb NEKKA give locations. A short form of the verb nekka is ne. The verb nekka can be used with all the above examples.

Ana teere bi? Mungi nekka ci/si biir néeg bi (It is (located) inside the house

Ana paaka bi? Mungi nekka ci/si kow taabul bi.
(It is (located) on top of the table.

Ana xale bi? Mungi nekka ci/si ron garab gi ci ganaaw-i néeg bi
He is (located) under the tree behind the house.

Verb Predicators

The verb predicator has the basic function of indicating the verb it is used with is to be taken as an explanation of something. Some close to its meaning can be expressed by giving the English verb or adjective a special stress e.g. He works, its small. The wolof predicator also indicates that a certain stress is added to the verb. The predicator precedes the verb it modifies and has the same function as the Completion marker. See paradigm below for all forms.

	Singular	Plural
1st Person	dama	deñu/deñ
2nd Person	danga	dangéen
3rd Person	dafa	deñu/deñ

* Dafa represents he/she/it

The Past Tense Marker - OON AND WOON

Although active verbs used with completion markers are technically past in the sense that their actions is marked as no longer at the time of speaking the action could have taken place or been completed just before speaking is done. When a stative verb is used with a completion marker, completion arises because it only indicates that act of coming into being of a particular state or condition has come into existence at the time of speaking.

In order to indicate that the action referred to by an active verb or the condition/state of mind referred to by a stative verb is limited to some time in the definite past, a special past tense marker is added to the verbal construction. This past tense marker can have three forms:

- 1 A suffix form - Woon which is attached to verb ending in a,e,i,o and u.
- 2 A suffix form - Oon which is attached to verbs ending in a consonants (Verbs ending in -a take -oon eg. lekka - lekkoon).
- 3 An Independent form - Woon which is not attached to the preceding word. These are usually clauses without a verb.

Examples

- | | |
|-------------------------------------|---------------------------------------|
| 1 Seetiwoon naa suma xarit - | I visited my friend |
| Sanguwoon nga demba - | You washed (yourself) yesterday |
| 2 Dama demoon ci maarse bi - | I went to the market |

VERB MODIFIERS

These verbs as in English are often used with other verbs. They are used in verbal constructions where one verb is the complement of the other. In English, adverbs and auxillary verbs serve these function. They can also function as index. A special marker "a" links the two verbs. Independent verbs.

VERBS MODIFIERS

War	-	should
Bugga	-	to want
Mun	-	to be able (can)
Xaw/xala	-	be almost/sort of/similiar to Sooy	-	just have
Gaaw	-	be quick to (to be quick)
Yiix	-	Be slow to (to be slow)
Faral	-	Usually/frequently
Gen	-	To be better than/to surpass/to be more than
Gej	-	To be unfrequent/not to have done (something) for a long time, to stay away from some place for a long time
Mus	-	To do at least once/ever
Jéem	-	To try/to make an effort
Bañ	-	To refuse

* The bugga ends in -a therefore, you so not need to add the marker "a".
Below is a summary of the different ways this marker can be used.

Expressing Future Tense (Positive/Negative)

The particle di was described as an auxiliary verb that indicates incomplete tenses.

The particle di is also used in Wolof to indicate the future tense. The way it is used when expressing the future positive tense is in combination with the marker na. The different forms appear in the paradigm below.

	Singular	Plural
1st Person	dinaa - I will	dineñ(u) - we will 2nd Person	dinga - you will	dingeen - you (all) will 3rd Person	dina - he/she/it will	dineñu - they will

Examples

A combination of the particle di and the verbal negative form the future negative tense. The different forms appear in the paradigm below.

	Singular		Plural
1st Person	duma	- I will not	duñu	we will not
2nd Person	doo (dunga)	- you will	dungeen/dooleen	you will not
3rd Person	du	- he/she/it will not	duñu	they will not

Note

The 2nd person singular dunga is never used in functional wolof but the contraction doo. The 2nd person plural has two forms which can be used indiscriminately.

Examples

- duma binda leetar ci olof - I will not write a letter in Wolof
- duma la jox xalis - I will not give you money

The Temporal Relative Bu/Su

In Wolof, there is a special relative pronoun which is used to refer to the time in which the action of a verb takes place. This temporal relative indicates that the time referred to is either anticipated (i.e. In the future) or hypothetical (i.e. conditional) without any formal distinction between the two possibilities. This roughly correspond to the English "when" or "if".

The temporal relative is usually followed by a subject pronoun. See the paradigm for the different forms.

	Singular	Plural
1st Person	buma/suma	buñu/suñu
2nd Person	boo/soo	Booleen/sooleen
3rd Person	bu/su	buñu/suñu

Note

The 2nd person singular bunga and sunga are not used in functional wolof but the contractions boo and soo. Both the bu/su forms can be used indiscriminately.

The verb which comes after the temporal relative ends in a long vowel. The verb ending determines the form of long vowel to be attached. Verbs ending in consonants and vowels e and i take the -ee ending.

Examples

- Suma gisee leetar bi - If/when I see the letter
- Boo seeti-ee sa xarit - If/when you visit your friend
- Buñu bale-ee néeg bi - If/when we sweep the house

Verbs ending in a take an -aa ending or the -ee ending when the a is dropped.

Examples

- Soo sangoo - If/when you bathe(yourself)

When the temporal relative is followed by the past continuous tense (doon) the following verb will not take the -ee ending.

Examples

- Bima doon waxtaan gisoon naa sa xarit bi - When I was chatting , I saw your friend
- Bamu doon nelew demoon naa fa - When he was sleeping I went there
- Buma daanoo - If/when I fall

Note

When used with object pronouns, the object pronouns should always come before the verb.

Examples

- Suma la gisee - If/when I see you
Bu ko indi-ee - If/when he brings it

Temporal Relative Bi/Ba

In Wolof there is a special relative pronoun which is used to refer to the time in which the action of a verb takes place. The temporal relative is made up of the formative consonant b plus one of the vowels i or a. These vowels suffixed to b indicate that the time in which the action of the verb takes place has already gone by. Since time gone by is no longer hypothetical bi and ba are equivalent to English when in the past. The essential difference between bi/ba seems to be that ba is used to refer to time which is more remote in the past than that referred to by bi. When this type of construction is used the endings are the same with that of the temporal relative bu/su. See the paradigm below for complete forms.

	Singular	Plural
1st Person	bima/bama	biñu/bañu
2nd Person	binga/banga	bingeen/bangeen
3rd Person	binu/banu	biñu/bañu

Examples

- bima nekkee America - When I was in America
- banga demee Banjul - When you went to Banjul

When "be pare" or "be noppi" occurs at the end of a temporal relative clause introduced by bi or ba, it indicates the completion of one event before the following one is emphasised.

be - until, till pare - to be ready, to be finished noppi - to be finished to stop, to be ready (to be quite)

Examples

bima waxee be pare dama demon ñibi when I finished talking I went home bamu añee be noppi dafa doon nelew when he finish lunching he was sleeping.

HABITUALS

HABITUAL POSITIVE (PRESENT TENSE)

When "dee" precedes a verb in wolof, it indicates that the action of the verb mentioned is performed everyday or more often Dee can translate to often, always, usually, frequently.

Here is a summary of how the marker is used.

Verb Predicators

Dama dee tux sigaret	I (do) smoke
Dafa dee tooga jën	He cook fish

Object Predicators

sigaret laa dee tux	(It is) cigarette I do smoke
jen la dee tooga	(It is) fish he does cook

- 18 Dafa leen dee yobbu geej saa yu nekka?
- 19 Fan la dee dem subba?
- 20 Ñaata xale nga dee indi ak moto bi?

Habitual Negative Present

When the negative du precedes the habitual dee it indicates that the action of the verb mentioned never took place. It has the sense of not often, not always, not usually, not frequently. In English do not is used.

Examples

duma dee tux sigaret	I do not smoke cigarette
du dee tooga jën	He does not cook fish
*Sentences with the negative du are neutral statements
* sigaret laa dut tux	Cigarette I do not smoke
* jën la dut tooga	Fish he does not cook

* maa dut tux sigaret	I do not smoke cigarette
* moo dut tooga jën	He does not cook fish

In the case of the Object Predicator and Subject Emphasis the habitual marker is negated. the negative dee ut is not used in function wolof but dut.

INTENSIFIERS

The function of these modifiers is to add intensity to the meaning of the verb in most cases stative verbs. In addition, Wolof has a number of other adverbs like modifiers which are limited in their occurrence. Some are used to modify a single verb. When "lool" and "torop" are used with active and stative verbs they translate as "very" and "too" respectively.

The words underlined are the intensifiers

ñuul kuk	- pitch	weex tal /fur	- snow white xoŋxa cur /coy	- very red	lëndëm kërur /taras/us	- pitch dark
leer nañ	- very bright	wex xat	- terribly seeda guy	- ice cold	tanga jir	- hot as hell
tooy xep	- soaking wet	wow koŋ	- bone dry ratax bayax /bandaŋ	- very slippery xesew xun	- very smelly (unpleasant smell)
forox tol	- very sour	set wec	- very clean gaata tukuñ /tukus	- very short tuuti kalantaan /melentaan	- very little	taali ñar /ñareet-	very straight nooy nem	- very soft	dëgër kik	- very strong sew ruj	- tiny, very thin
jeex tak	- completely finished	fees teb /del	- very full suur kël	- very full	wer keŋ	- very healthy
ñor xom	- very ripe, properly cooked
maandi dur	- very drunk	saf sap /saapa	- very tasty
em rok	- fit well

Lool and Torop have no special verb to modify

e.g.

xiif torop/lool	- very hungry
tilim torop/lool	- very dirty
rafet torop	- very beautiful
taanga lool/wit/jir	- very hot

Examples

- 1 dama xiif lool - I am very hungry
- 2 maangoro bi dafa ñor xom - The mango is very ripe
- 3 siyo bi dafa fees teb - The bucket is very full
- 4 siis bi dafa wow koŋ - The chair is very dry
- 5 néeg baangi xesew xun - The house is very smelly
- 6 ndox mi sedda na guy - The water is very cold
- 7 mbubba bi dafa em rok - The dress fits well

E. g.

dox - adox	- walk a great deal ñuul-a-ñuul	- very very black
bon-a-bon	- very very bad or detestably bad

- 1 Dama dox-a-dox be sonna - I walked until I was tired
- 2 Si biti dafa ñuul-a-ñuul kuk - Outside is very, very black
- 3 Dafa bon-a-bon - He/she is very bad

DESCRIBING PEOPLE

1 Describing someone or something

- a The question Naka la mel - what is he/she/it like?
Can both refer to both physical and moral description and dafa form is often used to answer these questions:

mel	- to be like/look alike
njool	- to be tall, tall
gaata	- to be short, short
réy	- big, to be big, to be fat
yem/em	- to be medium size, to fit, to be of overage size

E. g. Naka la mel?

- 1 dafa njool - He/she is tall
- 2 deñ(u) gaata - They/we are short
- 3 suma xarit bi dafa em - My friend is medium size
- 4 kër gi dafa réy - The compound is big

If the "dafa" form is not used, a construction with a relative pronoun can be substituted.

E.g.	dafa njool	- He/she is tall
	Ku njool la	- He is a tall person deñu gaata	- They are short ñu gaata leñ(u)	- They are short

b Description Vocabulary

1	nuul	- to be black/dark
2	xees	- to be of lighter skin
3	xeereer	- to be in between dark and light
4	séw	- to thin
5	rafet	- to be pretty/to be beautiful
6	jeeka	- to be elegant
7	maaget	- to be old
8	dof	- stupid, crazy
9	reew	- rude
10	ŋjoota	- stingy
11	reelu	- funny
12	soof	- dull
13	baax	- good
14	bon	- bad
15	am yaram	- to be fat
16	am bêt/bót	- to have big eyes
17	am jëmma	- to be tall, status, commanding appearance
18	am taxawaay	- to be tall
19	am taar	- to be pretty
20	am taat	- to have a big bottom
21	am xel	- to be smart, to be brainy
22	am xam-xam	- to be knowledgeable
23	am worsag/worsak	- to be lucky
24	am barke	- to be blessed
25	am doole	- to be strong
26	am alel	- to be rich
27	am fayda	- to have personality, to be serious
28	am jot	- to be free, to be less busy

c Another way of giving a description is with the construction am plus the noun (examples)

Maaykel am na xel - Michael is smart

Other examples

- danga xeereer, jekka ak am xamxam you are fair in complexion, elegant and knowledgeable

- dafa reelu torop - she/he is very funny
- dangeen dof - you are stupid/crazy
- dama ñuul ak am taar - I'm black and pretty

Note that "ñuul, xees, and xeereer" are used to describe someone's complexion.

Equality

The English construction as as, example "John is as tall as Nancy" is rarely used in wolof. The equivalent structure is in the forms given below.

- maase/tooloo - to be the same size as someone
- niróo - to look alike

Examples

- Paate ak Buuba ñoo tooloo - Paate and Buuba are of the same size
Vincent ak Ilimaan ñoo niróo - Vincent and Ilimaan look alike Musu ak Ramu ñoo em - Musu and Ramu are equal

Another way of expressing equality is with the use of the word bena and the predicator la

Examples

- Néeg yi bena leñ(u) - These houses are the same Ameerika ak Angalteer bena leñu - America and England are the same

Superiority

- a Gén - To be spacious

E.g.

- Musu moo gena njool Aji - Musu is taller than Aji Siis bii moo géna réy siis bi - This chair is bigger than this chair
Tool yii ñoo géna yaatu tool yii - These fields are wider than these fields Man, maa géna gaata faatu - I am shorter than Fatou

- b Corresponding to the "am" plus a noun construction. To bring comparison of superiority we use óppa

- Óppa* - to be in excess, to be too big, to be too large e.g. Kumba moo óppa Awa xel - Kumba is smarter than Awa Yow yaa óppa saayom wórsag - You are lukier than Simon

- c The word daaxa is often used when expressing superiority. It has the general meaning of "to be better than". When used with another verb, it is like an auxiliary and modifies that verb.

- e.g. Amadou moo daaxa musa ligéey - Amadou works better than Musa John moo daaxa Michealle janga - John is better student (studies better) than Michelle

When used alone (i.e. without another verb), daaxa takes the meaning of better. Depending on the context, it can have a very specialized meaning

- e.g. maalo moo daaxa jën - Rice is tastier than fish suma simis bi moo daaxa sa simis bi - My shirt prettier than your shirt

- Gambian moo daxa Ameerikan - Gambian is nicer than American

- d tane - better yées - to be worse

tane is not used in the same way daaxa is. It is the opposite of yées and indicates a general superiority

- e.g. siis bii baaxul, siis bii itam baaxul, wante bii moo tane bii
This chair is not good, and this chair is not good either, but this one is better than this one.

- 4 Expressing difference

utée/wutéé	- to be different/difference
taabul bii ag/ak taabul bélé deñ(u) utée	- this table and that table are different ñaari caabi yi deñ(u) wutéé	- the two keys are different

deñ(u) bena meaning not the same is also used to express difference

e.g.

Gambiya ag/ak ameerika duñ(u) bena - Gambia and America are not the same

Seen jikkoyi duñ(u) bena - Their habits are not the same

5 Inferiority

Yées	- to be worse/worse
- dafa yées	- He/she/it is worse
- yoon wii moo yées	- This road(way) is worse

Exercise

Answer to the following questions

- as mag naka la mel?
- sa raka moo géna gaata sa mag?
- Carter ak Reagan, ñoo niroo?
- Kareem Abdul Jabaar ag Mickey Rooney Kan moo géna njool (moo sut?)
- yow ak sa jangalekat bi yéena maase?
- sa mag ak jabaram ñoo tooloo
- benacin ak yaasa bu daaxa?
- ñaari néeg yii bu génaa rafet?

EXPRESSING "Let me"

Wolof has a special verbal construction to indicate the speaker's (wish or desire that something indicated by the verb) be done or (in the case of stative verbs) that a certain state or condition should come about.

The optative construction is formed by preceding the verb with the marker na (plus the appropriate subject pronoun). The optative marker is identical in form with the completion marker na. The difference between the two markers is that the optative na always precede the verb modified, while the completion na always follows on the verb.

OPTATIVE MARKER

	Singular	Plural
1st Person	naa - let me	neñu/nañu	- let us
2nd Person	nanga - let you	nangeen	- let you (pl)
3rd Person	na - let he/she/it	neñu/nañu	- let them

* The 3rd person refers to he/she it

Example

na ñow	- let him/her come nanga dem	- let you go
neñu lekka	- let us eat

When the optative marker is used with an object pronoun the Construction in this form, it still proceeds the Object pronoun and the verb

na ma jëndal kuddu	- let him/her buy for me spoon
nanga ñu indil ndox	- let you bring water for us

Exercise

- 6 - let the chair fall
- 7 - let the table stand
- 8 - let us help each other
- 9 - let me complete my work
- 10 - let them water the garden for us

Vocabulary

lekka	- eat
jefoo	- use
raxas	- clean
feesal	- fill
daanu	- fall
taxaw	- stand
dimbale	- help
jeekali	- complete
roose	- water
-ante	- each other
-naako	- garden

MINIMAL VERBAL CONSTRUCTION

This construction is called minimal because it does not use the particle angi, na, daf, or la. The use of this particular construction is presented here with verbs we call verbs of communication. Such verbs are like wax (to talk) ne (to say) and any verb that inherently contain the idea of volition (act, power of using one's will of choosing, making a decision) e.g. bugga to like/want.

In English the infinitive would be used for this kind of construction as in:

Tell him to go - wax ko mu dem

In Wolof the minimal verb construction consist of the subject followed by the verb. The communicative pronoun take the following forms.

SUBJECT/COMMUNICATIVE PRONOUN

	Singular	Plural
1st Person	ma	ñu
2nd Person	nga	ngeen
3rd Person	mu	ñu

Examples

Bugga naa mu ñow	- I want him (to) come
Mu ne nga dem	- He said you go
Wax leen ñu dugga	- Tell them to go in

Exercise 2

Translate to Wolof

- Tell her to bring the box
- Ask them to leave the room
- You want me to wash the bucket
- He would like them to come
- We hope they take the car to Banjul

EXPRESSING "no longer" and "no more"

- Astu dootul xalel - Asto is no longer a child Dootoo gan - You are no longer a stranger

In these sentences, dootul and dootoo take on the meaning of the verb to be. These forms roughly translate to "no longer" or "no more". The totality of the forms is given below.

	Singular	Plural
1st Person	dootuma	dootuñu
2nd Person	dootoo/dootuloo	dootuleen
3rd Person	dootul	dootuñu

When used with a verb the particle directly modifies that verb.

Examples

- dootul dem Banjul - He will no longer go to Banjul dootuñu uti mbuuru - We will no longer go to look for bread

When used with an object pronoun, the pronoun comes directly after the article before the verb.

Examples

- dootuma la tooñ - I'll accuse you no more dootu (l) la fóotal - He/she will no longer launder for you

Use

The particle "no longer" or "no more" with the following sentences

- gis naa waa ji ci dëkka bi
- seeti ngeen rab yi ci aala bi
- tooga na Mbaxal
- yóobuoon na doomam yi Serekunda
- nappioon neñu

WORD FORMATION

(Verbal Derivations)

In English words with related meanings often are formed by means of suffixes added to a base word or stem. These suffixes (such as "-ing", "-er", "-ment". etc ..). The derived word often belongs to a different grammatical category than base word e.g. teach, a verb, with the addition of a suffix becomes teacher, a noun.

The same device is employed to form words in Wolof, usually with suffixes

- 1 . . kat

Wolof nouns ending in . . kat are usually words of the form "one who performs the action specified by the verb base" The reference is not necessarily to a member of a profession but merely to a door of some action

Examples

janga	- to teach	daw	- to run
jangalekat	- teacher	dawkat	- runner
jaay	- to sell	ñaw	- to sew
jaaykat	- seller	ñawkat	- tailor/semstress

2 . . aat (..aati/..ati)

The addition of the suffix . .aat to verb results in modification of the meaning in generally is the same way the meaning of English verbs are modified by the prefix "re"-, to repeat the action specified by the verb base".

Examples

jël	- to take	defar	- to make
jëlaat	- to retake	defaraat	- remake

When the verb ends in a vowel other than a, the form of the suffix is usually . . .waat. The w is a glide in pronunciation.

Examples

faate	- to forget	indi	- to bring faatewaat	- to forget again	indiwaat	- to bring again
dellu	- to go back
delluwaat	- to go back again

3 sin..

The most widely used prefix in wolof is sin... This prefix has a diminutive function (it indicates a small size of something). It is also used to make things/people look insignificant.

golo	- monkey	siñool	- a little monkey
muus	- cat	sinmuus	- a kitchen
soraans	- orange	sinsoraans	- a little orange
daala	- shoe	sindaala	- worthless shoe

4 . . . ante

When . . . ante is attached to a verb a mutual benefactive situation is created (parties referred to benefits)

Examples

fóon	- to kiss	fóonante	- to kiss each other
------	-----------	----------	----------------------

Faatu ag/ak Omar fóonante neñu - Faatu and Omar kissed each other

In some constructions the benefactive suffix -al also comes into play.

Examples

fóot	- to wash clothes	fóotalante	- to wash clothes for each other
Faatu ag/ak Omar fóotalante neñu	- Faatu and Omar wash each other's clothes

5 . . loo (causative)

The addition of the suffix loo to a verb base indicates that the action of the verb has been caused by the subject of the sentence.

Examples

binda - to write bindaloo - to make (caused) to write bindaloo naa faatu - I made (caused) faatu to write

6 . . . loo + . . . ante - . . . looante (mutual causative)

In the mutual causative the construction takes the following form:

fompa - to wipe fompalooante - cause to wipe for eachother

Fompalante neñu taabal bi - we made (caused) eachother wipe the table

7 . . . u (-eeku) (Reflexive)

This occurs in constructions where the object is the subject of the sentence

Examples

sanga - to bathe sangu - to bathe oneself

selem - to wash the face selmu - to wash one's face

(* verbs ending in a, in the connection verbs ending in i take -eeku)

Examples

10 . . . eel

The addition of the suffix ...eel to a number indicates the adjective of the number. See following examples:

bena - one bena - first ñaar - two ñaareel - second ñenent - four ñenental - forth fukka - ten fukkéeel- tenth ñetta fukka - thirty ñetta fukkéeel - thirtieth téemээр - hundred téemээр gi - hundreth (* Only the figures one and ten (bena,fukka) end in the vowel a. They lose the a in the connection)

11 . . . lu

The suffix . . . lu indicates a relation of benefaction between the subject of the verb and some third party(ies).

fóot - to wash clothes
fóot naa suma simis bi - I have had my shirt wash for me ut - to search

utlu na téerээр bi - he has his book searched for him

12 . . . i (ji) "displaced Activity")

The suffix . . . i added to the base of a verb indicates that the action of the verb will not take place at where it was said (in other words, there must be some form of going). The activity of the verb is displaced, hence the name displaced activity.

root - to draw water lekka - to eat rooti - to go and draw water lekki - to go and eat

- dinaa rooti si teen bi - I will go and draw water at the well
- dina lekki si waañ wi- He will go and eat at the kitchen (* verbs ending the vowel a drop the a in the connection)

When a verb ends in e, o, u, . . . ji is added to the verb.
See the following examples:

raxaasu - to wash raxasuji - to go and wash maangee raxasuji si ndaal mi - I am going to wash at the jar tere - to prevent tereji - to go and prevent mungee tereji xale yi xeex - he is going to prevent the kids from fighting 13 In the following verbal derivation. The verbs reoccurs with the suffix . . . lu to indicate that the action of the verb is not performed in the strictest sense of the term. It simply means that the action of the verb is pretended by the person referred to.

See the following constructions:

lekka - to eat mun - to be able to lekka-lekkalu - to pretend to eat mun-munlu - to pretend to be able gis - to see
